

DISTRESSED INVENTORY LIQUIDATOR

Treasure Valley Location

THE BUSINESS

Started in 2007, this business was initiated as an outgrowth of another business the seller was involved with. The business model is to acquire distressed inventory, clean it up or tune it up as necessary and dispose of it at a significant profit. All of the items for sale are catalogued, photographed and available for inspection on the Company's web site or are available by individual item name on eBay. While many of the smaller items are sold directly on eBay, most of the higher priced items generate an eBay email asking questions. The questions are answered and contact information is shared with potential purchasers. Using this information, potential purchasers call the seller who responds to questions and normally the transaction is then closed outside of eBay.

WHAT IS FOR SALE

This is an asset sale. Only the inventory is for sale. The inventory is currently stored in a building owned by the seller. The purchaser will have to move the inventory to another location of his/her choosing. The price of the inventory includes a great web site and customized inventory accounting system. For an inventory list, please complete a Confidentiality Agreement on our home page or call/email the agent.

THE REASON FOR SELLING

Seller originally started this business in conjunction with another colleague. The colleague dropped out of the business shortly after it started and the seller does not wish to remain in the business on a long-term basis.

THE OPPORTUNITY

This is a great opportunity for someone already in the business or for someone looking for part time work and a good return on their investment.
