

PALLET MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Boise, Idaho

THE COMPANY

This business is well established in the southwest Idaho market having started production in 1995 by the current owner. The company builds new shipping pallets and recycles used pallets that are in repairable condition. In addition to marketing, the owner does the delivery and may fill in with production. The owner employs two workers that assemble the pallets. A great deal of the product goes to packing sheds that ship farm produce across the United States.

THE LOCATION

The business is located in Boise, Idaho and services customers from Mountain Home to Southeast Oregon. The manufacturing is done in an 800 sq. ft. building with approximately .75 acre for storage of materials and finished product.

THE REASON FOR SELLING

The seller has other business opportunities that he would like to pursue.

THE IDEAL BUYER

The ideal buyer would be an individual that enjoys working outside and wouldn't mind helping the laborers building the pallets if there is a need. The ability to make sales calls would be a huge plus if the company is to experience major growth.

THE POSSIBILITIES

This business is in need of a marketing plan to bring the product to large shippers in the Treasure Valley. Everything is in place for growth as production could increase with very little outlay of capital. Making sales calls is the key to expansion of the business.
